THE STAR ROUTES.

GEN. BRADY MAKES A GENERAL DENIAL.

More Dismissals Expected.

WASHINGTON, April 25.—It is understood that Gen. Brady is about to publish a pamphlet in which he will answer all charges made against him in connection with the Star Route irregularities. He claims that nothing can come of any criminal prosecution brought against him as all the charges now made were thoroughly investigated by the Congressional Committee which exonerated him.

A large number of the Star Route contractors who are very likely to have their names brought unpleasantly before the public in connection with the frauds have suddenly flocked to this city. They all of course strenuously deny that there was any fraud or frauds committed, and assert that the charges against them have been made by blackmailers.

The investigation, however, will proceed and the frauds will be probed to the bottom. The Assistant Attorney General of the Post-office Department, Judge Freeman, says that the irregularities have been carried on in defiance of the law as interpreted by him and that the plea that the law was defective will prove untenable.

From present indications more resignations may be demanded and expected during the week.

AN EXECUTIVE SESSION.—STRONG MOVEMENT FOR A REPUBLICAN CAUCUS.

There is a strong movement being made in favor of a Republican caucus. Senator Miller is the originator of this movement, the main purpose of which is an executive session. It is said that he is very much concerned that some action should be taken in regard to the Chinese treaty.

HONORS TO ADMIRAL DAVID G. FARRAGUT.

Vinnie Ream's bronze statue of the late Admiral David G. Farragut, in the park at the intersection of 17th street and Connecticut avenue, was unveiled with great ceremony and presented to the Government today. The presentation speech was made by Quartermaster Knowles and President Garfield in a neat speech received the statue on the part of the Federal authorities. The city appeared in holiday attire. A large number of marines and seamen from the ships in port and many of the naval cadets from Annapolis took part in the ceremony.

DESCRIPTION OF THE STATUE.

The statue is of heroic size, and represents Admiral Farragut with a marine glass in his left hand, his foot on a block and tackle, and supposed to be standing on the Hartford. It faces south, upon a pedestal 6 feet 6 inches high and a base of about seven feet square. The latter is of Maine granite, unpolished. At each of the four corners of the base is a four-inch mortar erected on a bronze carriage. These were made of metal from the propeller of the Hartford. The metal of the statue was also obtained from this propeller.

The cost of statue and base is $20,000. Vinnie Ream, now Mrs. Lieut. Hoxie, was selected as the sculptor by the board appointed by Congress out of twenty-one competitors from all parts of the world. The judges were Mrs. Farragut, Gen. Sherman and Secretary of the Navy Robeson. They had a number of models, sketches, etc., before them, including a model 7 feet high by Vinnie Ream. After a careful examination the award was made to her by a unanimous vote. A floor was taken out of a house in the rear of her residence on Pennsylvania avenue to form a studio in which to model the majestic statue foreshadowed in the model. Then when completed it was removed to the Navy Yard, where the artist worked diligently for months, receiving the courteous assistance of the naval officers stationed there. The completed work was placed in its present position in September last, and has remained covered with sail cloth until Saturday, when it was enveloped in a United States flag.

ONE GOOD TURN DESERVES ANOTHER.

It is claimed by his friends that Judge Robinson will be confirmed as Collector of the Port of New York because there was a bargain between him and Senator Platt that if he voted for the latter for Senator he should be confirmed in any office to which he might be appointed. This is entirely denied by Senator Platt but it is said that President Garfield is in possession of the written agreement.

FOREIGN NEWS.

The French and the Bey of Tunis.

PARIS, April 25.—A telegram from Tunis published in the Intransigeant announces that Tabarca was quietly occupied by French troops Saturday morning. The news seems to be confirmed by a brief dispatch direct from Tunis, which appears in the same paper. Nothing official is yet known, however.

THE MONETARY CONFERENCE.

LONDON, April 25.—The Paris correspondent of the London Telegraph says:—"Charles W. Fremantle, Deputy Master and Comptroller of the English royal mint, is expected here on Wednesday and will represent England at the monetary conference. I have reason to believe that he has been instructed simply to take notes and report to his government, especially avoiding any expression of opinion that might be taken to imply acquiescence in the principles of the convokers of the conference."

BERLIN, April 25.—The National Zeitung's correspondent at Paris says:—There is no prospect of the success of the Monetary Conference, and in view of the present attitude of the Powers a decision to postpone, or even to close deliberations, may be expected shortly.

TROUBLESOME TORIES.

LONDON, April 26.—At a meeting of Tory members of Parliament, at the Carleton Club, yesterday, it was agreed that unless important changes were made in the land bill, they would resolutely oppose it.

GLADSTONE'S WHITE ELEPHANT.

LONDON, April 26.—During a discussion on the second reading of the land bill in the House of Commons, last evening, Mr. Gibson fiercely attacked the measure, holding that it was absolutely unjust and would lead to unless litigation and confiscation. Sir Stafford Northcote said that the bill overturned the whole system of land tenure, while Mr. Forster argued that the bill was necessary. The debate was adjourned.

WHO SHALL BE LEADER?

LONDON, April 25.—It is understood that Sir Stafford Northcote will preside at the meeting of Conservatives on Wednesday next. It is believed that the Conservative leadership lies between Sir Stafford Northcote and the Duke of Richmond.

BEACONSFIELD'S FUNERAL.

LONDON, April 26.—The Queen will send a wreath from Osborne, which with others will be placed on Beaconsfield's coffin. The mourners will assemble at the Hughenden manor house at 3 o'clock P. M. Tuesday, a half hour before the funeral. The funeral procession, the coffin being placed on a wheeled bier, on quitting the manor house, will pass down the pathway on the side of the hill to the southern door of the church, where it will be met by a vicar, who will then commence the burial service; as the remains are borne through the nave to the chancel, the organ will play Beethoven's funeral march. The coffin will rest in front of the altar while the Vicar reads the first portion of the ritual. It will then be taken out through the south door, the organ playing, "O rest in the Lord," or "The Lord is mindful of his own," while the mourners quit the church for the vault at the east end, where the interment will be concluded in sight of the assembled people.

AN AMERICAN LAWYER IN A CANADIAN COURT.

HALIFAX, N. S., April 25.—Senator Frye of Maine is here and will remain about two weeks. He is engaged in an important suit involving about $150,000.

THE MEMORY OF THE DEAD.

BOSTON, April 25.—The Governor and council today passed resolutions of condolence with the family of Hon. William O. Taylor, late Councillor for the Second District, recently deceased.

SECRET REPUBLICAN CONFERENCE.

NEW YORK, April 25.—Vice President Arthur, Senator Platt, Police Commissioners Wheeler and French, John H. Smythe of Albany, Attorney General Ward, Congressman Crowley, and several local politicians had a secret conference in a well-known down-town resort today. The subjects discussed were the new charter, the street cleaning matter and the battle for supremacy waging at Washington. Senator Platt returned to Washington tonight.

THE SEDUCTIVE SARA SOON TO SAIL FOR HAVRE.

NEW YORK, April 25.—Mlle. Sara Bernhardt and her company will sail for Havre by the steamer L'Amerique on Wednesday, May 4. The following are the members of the company:—Mlles. Sara Bernhardt, Jeanne Bernhardt, Girard, Colombier, Sidney, Carpentier, Elye, Victorie and Mea: Mmes. Men and Dardelin, and MM. Angelo, Chamonin, Golly, Therfor, D'Orsay, Gangloff, Pieron, Busac, Deletrey and Bouilloud. Mr. H. C. Jarrett will sail with the company.

THE "BOSS" SYSTEM AMONG ESQUIMAUX DOGS.

There is always one bully in every team, who gets all the choice bits that are stolen by the others, and generally manages to keep fat, no matter how short they are of provisions. He waits for the others to make the raid, and then stands on the outside to take it away from them. Those bullies are in several grades. There is the chief, of whom all are afraid, and then there is the next in rank, of whom all are afraid but the chief; a third, of whom all are afraid but two, and so on down. Sometimes the food is cut into small pieces and thrown out upon the ice for all to help themselves, and then there is a rough-and-tumble fight, and snarling and growling, as if a whole cage of hyenas had broken loose. But here the bullies have no advantage; indeed, the advantage is with the small, lively fellows that slip in and get the meat while the big ones are fighting. When a dog manages to steal a piece of meat he has a lively time of it, for soon every other dog in camp is after him, and he has to eat it on the run, if at all, headed off at every turn by one of the bullies, and whining and choking at the same time. It certainly is one of the most comical exhibitions ever witnessed.—[From "Among the Esquimaux with Schwatka," Scribner for May.

THE RED MASK.

A Mocking Demon Stalking Abroad.—All Danger from it Averted by a Skillful Physician.

There are for many reasons few diseases more to be dreaded than Erysipelas, and it has, not inaptly, been termed "St. Anthony's Fire." There is no disease which so completely deforms and disfigures the visage of the patient; and it may fairly be compared to a red mask thrown by a mocking demon over the human face. It is almost as dangerous as it is repulsive. Arising from a variety of causes, running its course with pain—it often ends suddenly in death. The old treatment consisted of blood-letting and the use of strong drastic purgatives. The substance of the enlightened modern treatment is all contained in Dr. Kennedy's "Favorite Remedy." Use this, and you have taken the essential total of all the best physicians in the land could prescribe for Erysipelas. A case in point. Mr. S. H. Carpenter, of Grandville, N. Y., writes that he had for some time been afflicted with this disease in both legs, and has regained his health by the sole use of "Favorite Remedy." Other cases might be cited, did space permit. "Favorite Remedy" is also sure in its action in all other diseases of the blood. Ask your druggist for it, or address the Proprietor, Dr. David Kennedy, Rondout, N. Y.

ASHES AND NIGHT SOIL AS MANURE.

We use ashes indiscriminately on all kinds of crops and all kinds of soil, and get some benefit, but not always the full value, which can only be realized when we combine the ashes with organic, and particularly nitrogenous manures. I have found in experimenting the greatest effect from a union of night soil with hard wood ashes—not only great plant growth, but maximum yields of fruit. Never have I had such success with tomatoes, for instance, as where night soil was used to push forward the plant, followed afterward by ashes to perfect the crop. But the ashes must be plentifully applied, as they are slow to dissolve, hence of greater advantage on grasslands where the time is extended. Used alone on tomatoes on poor soil, there was a moderate growth, the plants exhibiting a pale tint, bearing less fruit in number but of good size. A touch of night soil changed the whole aspect of the plant. And this response where the two elements are united is always prompt, the ashes sure to prevent the vine from getting the better of the fruit. The potato, among other things, is benefited in the same way. On poor soil, particularly on dry clay loam with sod turned down, the effect is wonderful; but most wonderful with the Early Rose, planted as early in the spring as possible.

The ashes used are from hard wood, principally maple, the leached article almost as good as the unleached. In applying night soil it may be done when entirely fresh, with equal benefit. Thus there is constantly made, ready to hand, one of the very best fertilizers, always prompt and reliable, making the poorest soil yield equal to the best, and with comparatively little expense, as only the ground immediately occupied by the plants needs the application. Here is a chance for a poor family having a bit of land to supply itself without cost with the more important yields of the garden, as the ashes and night soil are the products of every household, and always sufficient, the product keeping pace with the size of the family and their demands on the garden. Where coal is mostly burned the effect will be less. In such case it is best to mix ashes and soil; this to the depth the ground is worked, making the proportion one of ashes to about three of soil, the coarser parts of the ashes removed. This should be done the year previous, and, at the latest, early in the fall, so as to give the heat a chance to act on the combined ashes and soil. Clay soil, especially if rigid, should have this treatment to improve its texture, whether wood ashes are used or not, or, in the absence of coal ashes, vegetable material should be worked in. Then all that is needed in the spring is to plant and apply the stronger manure. Apply not all at once, but as is needed during the season, less when the plant is small, always keeping the soil well stirred.—[P. G., in N. Y. Tribune.

THE MESSIAH OF THE PUEBLOS.

The best hope and strongest faith of the Pueblos are in the second coming of the great king, who is to raise the dead, judge the world, and reign in peace and righteousness. Struggling with shadows and weird imaginings, working out their destiny with many a bitter failure, in anguish of heart, they instinctively reach through the darkness for the almighty hand of the unseen helper. The sons of Montezuma, as they love to call themselves, believe the fullness of time is come and the return of their Messiah at hand. He will leave his bright sun-house to right the wrongs and heal the woes of the race so mercilessly stricken down by the Spaniards. Then there will be no more death, neither sorrow, nor crying; neither shall there be any more pain. Their ideas are vague and dim. Legends treasherous as memory, and growing fainter from generation to generation, for their wise men are without open vision and their sagamores have neither written prophecy nor guiding stars.

The view from the top of the mesa is unspeakably beautiful. Twined among multitudes of peaks, like tangled ribbons, are streakings of azure and purple, beneath which, as we know by experience, are outspread valleys, broad, treeless, scorched with a tropic heat, which at noonday seems like a quivering flame. The pre-historic ruins cover about thirty acres, and are scattered in confusion on the level plateau under the wind-whipped cedars. Here, until within a few years, was kept the consecrated fire burning for centuries—the Montezuma fire; but time fails to tell it all. Another day we will come again, and hear the fanciful traditions, the misty old superstitions that hover about the neglected shrines. They are given with an opulence of fancy that throws mists before your eyes. In the hush of solitude, the effect of the place is mysterious, and reflection drops easily into belief. Few worshippers now sacrifice in the primeval temples, where of old they must have flocked by hundreds, cherishing the promise of the second coming of Montezuma from the pleasant land where the sun rises. The chiefs crouch with faces toward the east as the morning star goes softly out, and the gray dawn melts in purple and gold, yearning as human hearts have yearned in all ages, seeking a sign from heaven. The legend runs that he who shall first behold the king in his beauty shall receive some great favor at his hand. Sometimes they wait in silence; again they chant a hymn to their god, watching till he shakes his "plumes of fire" above the mountaintops and shoots his radiant spears across the roseate sky. But the oracles are dumb. Well are they keeping the mighty secret.—[Mrs. Gov. Lew Wallace in Independent.

EUROPEAN TRAVEL.

AN UNPRECEDENTED RUSH OF BUSINESS.—WHAT IS SAID AT THE STEAMSHIP OFFICES.

Travel to Europe, which is always light in the early spring, has fairly begun, and advances the promise that the exodus this year will by far exceed that of any previous one known to the steamship companies. As has always been the case, Americans manifest an unconquerable dread of March gales, and for this reason, mainly, their visit to the Old World is generally deferred to some time in the present month. Surely during the later months, especially May, June, and July, great throngs of people leave these shores for a summer's sojourn abroad, and, indeed, it is in these months that the overflow of European travel is most observable and when the steamers leave here crowded to their utmost capacity. The cheapness for which we travel nowadays is not a little surprising, and a glance at the advertisements of the various lines of steamships cannot fail to convince one of the sufficient variety offered either to native or foreigner. Time was, and it is not very long ago, when the expense of taking a trip to Europe was so great that the thought of such a thing was utterly ridiculous, save to a few of the affluent. Now the fares have been reduced so that the pleasure of a sail across the Atlantic is placed within the reach of hundreds of thousands of people in moderate circumstances. That this opportunity is not neglected, no more conclusive evidence is required than the appearance of the passage books belonging to the steamship companies. Not a few of the ocean steamship companies whose boats ply between this port and Europe have this spring been obliged to refuse requests for berths, so great is the demand. In many of the favorite ships, and nearly every ocean traveller has a predilection for some steamer or other, berths have been engaged for months in advance.

The officials of the Inman line to Liverpool, who were seen the other day by a representative of the Commercial, said that the line was doing and was likely to do for some time an unprecedentedly large passenger business. The majority of the vessels of this line are said to be full from the 1st of May to the middle of July, when travel begins to show signs of decreasing. The steamers which will be employed during the summer season are the Cities of Richmond, Berlin, Chester, Brussels, Montreal, and Rome, the latest addition to the company's fleet. This steamer, which is advertised to sail from this port on August 1, is said to be a marvel of naval architecture, and of the largest tonnage of any vessel in existence, with the exception of the Great Eastern. "The travel this year," said one of the gentlemen in the company, "seems to be by favorite ships, and we will carry a great number of our old customers, people who have travelled in our steamers for years and years." During last year the Inman Line carried the following number of passengers:—Arrivals—Cabin 3,500; steerage 39,088. Departures—Cabin, 3,237, and steerage 1,203. The ships of the line have been thoroughly overhauled, and many of them provided with the "Brunswick berths," employed as a preventive against seasickness.

The steamers of the White Star Line are rapidly filling up, and applications for berths in the vessels of this line have been simply enormous. In many instances applicants could not be accommodated.

The Guion Line to Liverpool will, during the coming summer season, run five steamers, which are the Arizona, Wisconsin, Abyssinia, Wyoming, and Nevada. Most excellent trade is reported, and each of the vessels will leave with a full complement of passengers. The rates for first class passage remain the same as last season, $80, $80, and $100. The Company's new steamer Alaska, which is said to be larger and faster than the Arizona, will arrive here in September or October next. She will have accommodations for 330 saloon passengers, and will be 510 feet long, 50 feet breadth of beam, 40 feet depth of hold, 6,500 tons measurement, and 10,000 effective horse power.

The proprietors of the Anchor line, whose steamers are in the Glasgow and London services, appear to be quite satisfied with the prospects of the season, and give assurances that their business is even better now than it was last season. Applications were made for berths much earlier than in former years, and, as a consequence, the majority of the ships of the line are almost occupied. Last year this company carried 27,000 out-going cabin passengers.

The National line, which also has steamers running to London and Liverpool, report a very heavy passenger trade.

So great has been the demand for passages on the steamers of the State Line for Glasgow that the owners have been obliged to advance the rates slightly.

The rush of business seems to have extended itself to the Cunard, French, North German, Lloyd, Red Star, and the Hamburg-American Packet Lines. At the office of those companies the most encouraging information is offered relating to the prospects for the season.

A peculiarity of the travel this summer is the unaccountable number of ministers and educational parties. The bulk of the former, it is reasonable to suppose, are going abroad to be present at the Ecumenical Council which will be held in London this summer. —[Commercial Advertiser.

The Persian character, says Lionel Tennyson, is the reverse of analytical, the reverse of consistent. He resembles a child now haughtily reserved, now babbling his personal secrets. He shrinks from the commonplace existence. His everyday ride must be varied with "jereed" or some other boisterous game. It is a serious problem how to prevent the Persian from using the white telegraph insulators as marks for his bullets. He seeks to enliven the monotony of life with practical jokes. He will pardon any liberty for the sake of amusement. He has earned the title of Freemason of the East, because of his intelligence, quickness and agreeableness.

GLEANINGS AND GOSSIP.

Two New York companies are to start lager beer brewing in London this summer.

The sale of the Chapin library has closed, the books having brought altogether about $25,000.

The Grand Union Hotel, at Saratoga, is being put in splendid condition for the opening in June.

The hills of western Hampshire, Mass., are still covered with snow, and the mail through Windsor is carried on runners.

The national Baptist anniversaries will be held this year at Indianapolis, Ind., beginning May 18 and continuing until May 25.

Paris sewage began to be used in 1869 to irritate vegetable gardens and today 800 acres of sandy soil are supplied with it. The experiment has only been moderately successful.

Cottages at Mount Desert are in great demand. They rent for higher figures than last year, and, in fact, the place has a "boom" which will be a sad disappointment to economical people.

The saving in coal by the recent processes in the manufacture of pig-iron and steel rails amounts for England alone to about 6,000,000 tons a year, or about one ton in 25 on the annual production.

It is proposed to produce "Romeo and Juliet" at the London Court Theatre according to the plan adopted at the old Globe Theatre. There will be a complete absence of scenery. The romantic tragedy will be enacted before a baize curtain, upon which a placard will be posted indicating the purpose of each successive phase of the play. The idea is ascribed to Madame Modjeska, who will impersonate Juliet, Mr. Forbes Robertson appearing as Romeo.

I tell you, gentlemen, that if you suppose that the licensed retail liquor dealers are going to make complaints against those people whom they know are selling illegally, and thus become a factor in the enforcement of the law, you are quite mistaken. Nearly all the licensed retailers are in the power of the wholesale dealers and these latter find their best customers among the unlicensed men. Hence it follows that the licensed dealers dare not do anything to hurt those who have no license.—[Thomas McEvoy to the law and order league.

George William Curtis, in Harper's for May, in an article on "American Names of Places," says of hotel names: "When that celebrated traveller, 'the thoughtful stranger,' arrives in New York, and is asked whether he will alight at the Windsor or the Westminster, at the Brunswick or the Albemarle, he naturally replies, 'But, bless my soul, this is not London, you know; I thought I had come to New York.' Why should not the Windsor have been the Manhattan, and the Brunswick the Hamilton, and the Westminster the Knickerbocker, and the Albemarle the Hudson? Or, to put it the other way, why should they have been given these names with English associations? Are our own names and historic associations so poor and unsuggestive that they are unworthy of this kind of commemoration?"

Two Cincinnati ladies, who had lately returned from a trip abroad, were exchanging opinions in reference to the famous pictures they had seen. "Give me the Reconnaissance School of Art," exclaimed one, "so full of sympathy, of poetry; so different from the Pre Rachelite." "It's very true what you say," observed the other, "but as for me, I just dote on the Dusseldorp school, the paint is so much fresher."—[Brooklyn Eagle.

Newport Daily News, and the Newport Journal.

The Newport Daily News is published every afternoon (Sundays excepted), at the News building, 197 Thames street, by Davis & Pitman.

The Newport Journal is published at the same office every Saturday morning and contains a selection of the best matter in the Daily, including editorial discussions of the topics of the week, literary miscellanies and at least one good story, the latest markets and a complete and comprehensive summary of the news,—local and general. The Journal is a large 32 column paper and contains a large amount of reading matter that is valuable to readers in town or country who desire a good Newport paper, but who do not take a daily from this city.

Complaints regarding the irregular or improper delivery of either paper should be sent to the office at once.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES.

The Daily News, $6 per annum, or 12½ cents a week, payable to carrier.

The Newport Journal will be sent to any address in the United States, postage paid, for $2 a year. A discount of 50 cents is made when the WHOLE YEAR is paid STRICTLY IN ADVANCE.

These terms are invariable.

ADVERTISING RATES.

Ordinary advertisements, $1 a square, for the first insertion, and 25 cents for each continuance. Ten lines, or less, in this type, make a square. Advertisements in reading matter, are charged for at 50 per cent. extra and are subject to editorial revision. A discount on these rates is allowed on all advertisements ordered in the Daily for one week or longer. Funeral notices 50 cents each. Yearly advertisers are limited to their immediate business and are allowed twenty-five changes a year. The circulations of the News and Journal being necessarily distinct, an advertisement inserted in both papers will reach entirely different sets of readers. As further inducement for advertisers to use both the News and Journal, a liberal discount on the combined rates is made.

PRINTING.

Connected with the News is a large and well appointed job printing office. All orders for work in this department will be promptly filled, and at reasonable prices. The patronage of the public is respectfully solicited.

The job office has recently been supplied with new type and a new press, especially adapted to fine work. Liberal supplies of choice papers, envelopes and cards, always on hand. Prices as low as possible for first class work.

The Philadelphia Times says that Greece is a perfect Pandora box of diplomatic surprises.

The steamer Massachusetts will go on the line between Providence and New York, next Monday.

Is it because ladies are mostly religious and gentlemen not that a man's wife is called his "better half?"

The honest and intelligent voters of Newport will "knock the stuffing" out of the ballot box tomorrow.

Both sides in the Senate appear to be determined "to fight it out on the same line if it takes all summer."

One of the New York papers headed a recent report of the Whittaker court-martial "That colored nuisance."

Mr. Dana of the New York Sun describes Cuba as one of the finest lands under the light of the sun. What does he mean?

Railroads are not only binding the land with an iron band but the railroad kings are also trying to grind the land with an iron hand.

The "esthetic class" has been defined as the crazy class which clings to the skirts of artistic and cultivated sections of the metropolis.

It has been suggested that the reason why the Nihilists were so bunglingly executed in Russia recently was that the executioners did not have enough practice.

If Ingersoll will give us "Some reasons why" the present Senate should not adjourn or transact some public business he will gain the eternal gratitude of an anxious public.

Mr. George William Curtis, the gentleman whom Senator Conkling characterised as "the man milliner," is to deliver an address on Civil Service Reform in Boston on Thursday next.

Washington officials were never thought to be over virtuous, but many of them have recently shown that they possess that virtue of all virtues in a public servant——the virtue of resignation.

If such fiends as the Boston murderer of Mrs. Pope could be lynched it might be for the good of society. It is true that most men can be put to better use than hanging, but then, there are exceptions to all rules.

They amuse themselves in South Carolina by hanging negroes to make them confess to uncommitted crimes. In this case the victim's views were probably not in accord with those of the "jokers" though it is evident his neck was in a cord with them.

Mr. James T. Fields, the noted American novelist, died in Boston yesterday morning aged 61 years. Deceased was for a long time a member of the publishing house of Ticknor & Fields, and for a number of years edited the Atlantic Monthly.

The New York Graphic yesterday published an article showing "The Pleasures of Defeat." Candidates for City Marshal should study up on the subject before tomorrow as some of them may have occasion to look for "the pleasures of defeat."

It appears that the Andover students caught while entering the house of an inhabitant were not even prospective theologians, but pronounced atheists. The religious press has been very much nettled by the ascribing of a theological bent to the aspirations of the young burglars.

The wisdom of maintaining the present deadlock in the Senate may be considered when we remember that there are 151 nominations waiting for its action, ranging from a justice of the Supreme Court down. All these are kept in abeyance while the politicians are struggling over the question of doorkeeper.

It is pointed out as a singular coincidence, that four men and one woman were hanged for the assassination of the Czar of Russia just as there were for the assassination of President Lincoln, and the Czar's assassins suffered death on the sixteenth anniversary of the assault upon the lamented President. —[Baltimorean.

Mrs. Sarah E. Howe, of Ladies' Deposit fame, was found guilty in Boston yesterday of four out of the five counts against her. She will now have ample time to ponder over the old couplet that "he, who takes what isn't his'n, if its found out must go to prison," and will discover that it applies to a "she" as well as to a "he."

A fellow was hanged down South recently for murdering his wife and his last words were that "he expected to meet his wife in heaven," and "that he had nothing against her." It certainly is very kind, indeed, for a man not to keep any ill will against a woman whom he has murdered, but the sublime impudence of saying he expects to meet his victim in heaven is too much. Presumption could no further go; if justice were done he went below.

A VICIOUS SYSTEM.

The complaint is continually made that certain officials in this city are engaged in politics to a degree that interferes with the proper discharge of their duties. As to the correctness of this charge the Daily News has, in this connection, nothing to say. That question will be left wholly to those who are particularly interested in its elucidation, and who have chosen to discuss it. But there is another aspect of the case to which it is proper to call especial attention at this time, and that is the method adopted in making choice of these officers.

Nothing can be nearer self evident than that when a man is in office, and has a desire to retain his position, he will do all that he thinks proper and necessary to make his future calling and election sure. To ask him to do less is to ask him to be more than human. If the City Marshal, for instance, is dependent for his place on the good will of a certain class of citizens, he will, if he is like other men, seek the good opinion and favorable action of that class. He will feel inclined to avoid offense and to curry favor; and unless he be a remarkable man will be strongly tempted to swerve from the strict path of duty, if he feels that to walk therein is to be the price of his position. To maintain his place from year to year he must be a politician, and to be successful he must be a low and artful politician. The system of election to executive offices by popular suffrage is an open bid for such a course of action in the administration of public affairs. Even if a man were to rise as far as possible above these influences he will still be liable to the suspicion, and find himself charged with derelictions of this character. But, practically, no incumbent who is a candidate for re-election can rise above these influences and it ought not to be expected of him. Even office-holders are human.

The reform in municipal affairs that is now most needed is a return to some method of appointment for all executive officers that shall free them from becoming mere time servers in order to retain their places. The policeman making an arrest and the judge on the bench should not be made to feel that the criminals under arrest and on trial have it in their power to turn the officers of justice out, and install others in their places. Under our present system every man arrested, every unlicensed rum shop closed, every brawler brought to the Station House, in short, every violator of the law who is made to feel the penalties of the law represents just so many voters against the selection of the officers who do their duty. Can the public expect an efficient City Marshal under such a system? If it does, the public is more largely destitute of common sense than has been supposed even by the philosophers.

We say this without the slightest intention of reflecting on Mr. Read or any other city official. That is not the question under discussion. We have no doubt but Mr. Read has been and is influenced by the knowledge of his dependence, in part, on the criminal classes, and should he be defeated tomorrow, we have no doubt but his successor will be affected in precisely the same way. And further than that, we do not believe any man who does his duty faithfully can be elected to the office of City Marshal three years in succession. Our present mode of selection is a bid for inefficiency, a declaration that men in that place must be politicians looking out for the next election even to the neglect of their proper duties.

It was a sorry day for Newport when the change was made in our city charter making such officers elective. The many and costly especial elections which we have been compelled to hold, and the unsettled feeling on this subject which continually prevails, are abiding testimonies to our folly, and the sooner we retrace our steps the better.

A PASTOR REMEMBERED.

INTERESTING PRESENTATION LAST NIGHT BY THE MITE CLUB TO REV. N. B. THOMPSON.

Last night the Mite Society of the Second Baptist Church gathered in full force at the residence of Stafford Bryer on Mt. Vernon street. It being the last meeting that the pastor of the church would attend, every member of the society determined to make the occasion as enjoyable as possible. As early as 8 o'clock the pleasures of the evening began. After a free exchange of evening salutation music and mirth proceeded to the delight of all present. Mrs. Albert Hammett and Miss Mary Greene presided at the organ and piano. Several solos, duetts and choruses were sung. During the evening an amusing dialogue by five young ladies was given. None seemed to tire in adding to the pleasure of the occasion.

Just before 11 o'clock the pastor was requested to offer prayer after which Mrs. James Townsend, the president of the society, called Mr. Thompson into the centre of the room, and said she, as the president of the society, was asked to say a few parting words. She could not, she said, make any extended remarks for her heart like all those present was too full of commingled feeling. She wanted to thank him as their pastor for the earnest and impartial manner in which he had labored for their good since he had been among them. They would always remember him with the deepest and best of feeling. As a token of their love and regard for him and as an evidence of their cherished regard for his deceased wife she asked him to accept of this gift. Here Mrs. Townsend presented Mr. Thompson with a small box containing one hundred and ten dollars with the request that it be used in the erection of a suitable "memorial stone" at the grave of his wife. In accepting the gift Mr. Thompson did so in a feeling and appropriate speech. In warm words of love he assured them of his appreciation of the gift and his love for them. He also assured them that soon their request should be fully carried out. The committee who have labored so willingly for this gift are the Misses Mary Meade, Beckie Bosworth and Hannah Read.

After the singing of one more piece in which all joined and Mr. and Mrs. Bryer were assured that their effort to entertain had been appreciated and was a success, and Mr. Thompson had received many earnest wishes for his future good, the very delightful pleasures of the evening were brought to a close.

Dr. Peabody once said that when a man had made a speech that had length and breadth without depth he had wasted his time, because the result looked solid contents.

—The remains of the late Mrs. Carey, of New York, will be brought here Thursday night for interment. The death of this estimable lady has cast a gloom over a wide circle of friends and relatives. She was instrumental in doing a great deal of good among the poor and unfortunate of our own city, where she was held in high esteem. Her husband, Mr. John Carey, Jr., died about three weeks ago and his body was brought here by his wife and interred in the family lot in the Island cemetery. Her death was very unexpected. Deceased was a daughter of the late William B. Astor, of New York. Her villa at this place will probably be closed during the coming season.

DEATH OF GEO. BURROUGHS.—Mr. Geo. Burroughs, whose illness was reported yesterday, died soon after noon today at his residence on Bull street. He has been in usual health up to within a week past, but took a severe cold on election day while serving as warden at the polls, which resulted in pneumonia and a somewhat sudden death. Mr. Burroughs was well and favorably known in the community and his departure adds another to the long list of prominent citizens who have recently passed away.

The N. Y. Herald says:—"There are many fine qualities and excellent tone in C. H. Miller's "Sunset at Purgatory, Newport, R. I." The rocks and the sheep are, however, so indistinctly characterized, that we are somewhat at a loss to know which is sheep and which is rock. Some sort of transmutation is evidently going on in this weird "Purgatory" of Mr. Miller's, and the sheep are slowly turning to stone, while the rocks are apparently losing their moss for wool. The cold November sunset is very successful, and the peculiar, wild character of the spot has been finely portrayed. What a setting for a ballet of fiends and gnomes!

JUSTICE COURT.

Margaret Smith and Catharine Sullivan, arrested for an assault upon Officer Garnet, were arraigned on the 19th instant before Judge Baker. They both entered a plea of not guilty, and the hearing was continued until today. Subsequently, however, they both came before Judge Baker and retracted their former pleas and both pleaded guilty, whereupon Margaret Smith was fined three dollars, and Catharine Sullivan, four dollars. The fines, with costs, were paid, and both were discharged.

The pending complaint against Eugene C. O'Neill, for selling liquor to minors, was continued one week, upon respondent's motion.

DEATH OF DR. VINTON.

The intelligence of the death of Rev. Alexander H. Vinton, D. D., has just been received by his niece, Mrs. J. H. Gilliat, of this city. He died suddenly this morning while visiting in Philadelphia, apparently in his usual good health. The funeral will be from the Holy Trinity Church in Philadelphia, a former parish of his, and he will be buried in Providence on Friday. Dr. Vinton is the last of five brothers, all eminent men. He resigned his parish in Boston about two years ago and has since lived in Pomfret, Conn. He was seventy-three years of age.

AFRAID OF HIS FATHER.

AN APPRENTICE ON THE MINNESOTA HANGS HIMSELF RATHER THAN MEET HIS FATHER.

A son of Nicholas Kirsch, of New York, committed suicide by hanging yesterday afternoon on board the United States training ship Minnesota. Young Kirsch was one of the apprentice boys and was confined in a "dungeon cell" for theft. He was found suspended by the neck, the rope being fastened around his neck and tied to a hammock hook overhead. He was cut down and the authorities notified. Owing to the lateness of the hour, however, it was deemed advisable not to hold the inquest until this morning. Capt. Chandler notified the boy's father by telegraph last night. The lad did not bear a good reputation and prior to his incarceration for theft the had been "in line" for some time for disobedience and disrespect to the officers of the ship. It is said that his father had been asked to call for him and take him home after paying up the arrears due the government. No cause in particular, save that of being afraid to meet his father, is assigned for his rash deed.

MARRIAGE BELLS.

A very pretty wedding was solemnized at Emmanuel Church yesterday afternoon at 5 o'clock, the contracting parties being Mr. Arthur H. Givings Waters, son of Councilman Waters, and Miss Alice E. Chamberlain, daughter of the late Mr. Nathan Chamberlain. The cosy church was comfortably filled with interested spectators the body of the edifice being reserved for invited guests. Many leading citizens were present among whom were several members of the City Government. The Rev. R. B. Peet officiated. There were no groomsmen or bridesmaids, the bride, who was tastefully attired, being given away by her mother, Mrs. Chamberlain. The duties of ushers were performed by Mr. Charles M. Cottrell, Mr. William King and Mr. Murchington. A reception was held after the wedding at the residence of the bride's mother on Franklin street, after which the happy couple started for New York on their bridal tour. The bride is a lineal descendent of Sebastian Cabot, one of the discoverers of America.

DEATH OF ROBERT SHERMAN.

Mr Robert Sherman, who has been confined to his house on Spring street for some time on account of illness, died very unexpectedly at an early hour last evening. The deceased was rapidly improving and his friends expected to see him out in a few days. He ate a hearty dinner and had been up stairs several times during the day. He was talking with his wife, who has also been quite ill for a long time, when he died without a struggle. Mr. Sherman was one of the leading merchants of the city and has been in business on Market Square for many years. He built up a large trade among the summer residents and was known as an upright and honorable merchant who positively declined to fee the servants of his customers. This decision on his part was hailed with delight by his patrons. In his death Newport loses one of her noblest citizens and one whose place it will be difficult to fill. He leaves a wide circle of relatives and friends to mourn his loss. Mr. Sherman, although often solicited, never filled any public office.

WORDS IN REPLY.

To the Editor of the Daily News:—

SIR:—On reading over my letter of last Saturday I find that I have committed one grievous error, which I hasten to correct.

I said that Mr. Read "offers himself for re-election." That is a mistake, and I thank Mr. Lee for giving me an opportunity to correct it. I ought to have said that he is forcing his re-election on us, for on Friday afternoon at the City Hall in presence of the writer and others, Mr. Read distinctly announced his purpose to spend three hundred dollars in procuring his election if necessary, exhibiting a large roll of bills which he said amounted to that sum. (The names of those who were present on this occasion can be obtained at the Daily News office). Whether this money is to be used in the purchase of votes or not, I leave the public to imagine.

In view of this fact I respectfully submit to the delegates to the Republican Convention and those who sent them there, that they are absolved from all obligation to support Mr. Read any further.

But why does Mr. Lee claim for Mr. Read this year any more consideration than Mr. Read accorded Mr. Brayton last year? Has he forgotten that Mr. Brayton was then the unanimous choice of the Republican Convention and that Mr. Read ran against him? Or has Mr. Lee some other reason unknown to the general public and only suspected by some for rushing in as his champion?

In spite of Mr. Lee's ignorance of my personality I shall again take refuge in my initials, "S. R. H."

GOV. T. W. HIGGINSON.

Governor Higginson! It looks quite well in print, but that is as far as it is likely to get. The country papers that have undertaken to boom Representative Higginson of Cambridge for a gubernatorial candidate have got a bigger job on their hands than they ever had before. It must have been as a sort of joke that the suggestion was first made, but the idea has spread until the New York Times says that Mr. Higginson is a prominent candidate for Governor. But then the latter fact is nothing surprising, considering the constitutional inability of the New York papers to accurately diagnose Massachusetts politics. The suggestion of Mr. Higginson as a gubernatorial candidate is really one of the hugest political jokes of the season. Probably the gentleman from Cambridge would not object to being Governor of the state; there are very few men who would not like the place. But Mr. Higginson is no fool, and understands as well as anybody else can that there is no more chance of his becoming Governor than there is that Mr. Nichols of Lawrence or Mr. Robbins of Pittsfield will be elected to that position. Mr. Higginson is not enough of a politician to be elected to much of any office except in Cambridge, where he is at home among "them d—d literary fellers." He is a fit Representative of such a constituency, and is deservedly held in high esteem by those who have sent him to the Legislature for two terms. But his well known independence, his fine literary faculties, his graceful oratory and his political reform predelictions, would scarcely commend him to the larger, and less cultured, constituency of the state. Even among his fellow members of the House Mr. Higginson has less influence than last year, though he is not the man to be willing to let his light be hidden under a bushel. That he is honest and conscientious as a public man no one doubts, but he is too erratic, and too much inclined to spread himself out thin over a good deal of ground, to be influential. No; Mr. Higginson cannot be Governor so long as there are so many bright, keen, shrewd politicians in the field before him. And it is probably just as well that he should not be. There are other men who, though perhaps less brilliant than the gentleman from Cambridge, have a more practical, every-day talent for public affairs. The fact is, that in the political arena Mr. Higginson does not find his field of work; rather as an author, or orator, an advocate of social reforms, can he be pre-eminent. Probably he realizes this truth better than anybody else, and this may be the reason why he was so averse to allowing the use of his name as a candidate for Representative in Cambridge at the last election, and why he has declined in advance to be a third term candidate.—[Boston Gazette.

LOST AND FOUND.

A strange disappearance has just been explained by a still stranger recovery, if the reported facts are true. On the 25th of last August, Herbert Stanwood, a young man from Waterbury, Conn., who was spending his summer vacation at Brunswick Me., went sailing on the bay. He did not return, and as the following day his boat was found stranded on Chateague Island with his hat in it, and one oar missing, he was thought to have been drowned. Three weeks ago the postmaster of Brunswick received a letter from a Mr. Converse of Brunswick, Ga., inquiring if there was a Stanwood family in the former place, and explaining that he had in charge a young man by that name who had just recovered from an attack of brain fever, and was able to give only a scant account of himself. Mrs. Stanwood went to Georgia where she found her husband in a deplorable condition mentally, though physically robust. He remembered being out in his boat, and that a man in a yacht which nearly ran him down, struck him over the head with an oar. Beyond that he remembered nothing until he found himself in Savannah, Ga., in a destitute condition. Thence he wandered to Brunswick, with a dim idea that he was on his way to a place of that name in Maine. There he was cared for by Mr. Converse, who reports his condition much improved in comparison with what it had been, and there is a chance that he will entirely recover his health and mental vigor.

JOHN BROWN'S FAMILY.

The widow of John Brown appears to be living at Saratoga, in Santa Clara county, Cal., whither she went recently with her two youngest daughters, Sarah and Ellen—the last-named being married and her husband the farmer of the family. They went from Humboldt county to Santa Clara, which is south of San Francisco, to engage in fruit raising and raisin-making. Sarah Brown writes (March 22) that they are living on a mountain ranch, with a good house and six acres of cleared land, set out with fruit, some of which is now in bearing. The wood sells well and pays the cost of clearing up the land, and she says:—"I think we shall do well when we get well started, that is, in three or four years. It is a splendid place and a lovely climate." Nothing is said of Mrs. Brown's visit to the East, and probably the story of her being in Washington is without foundation. There seems to be a mortgage of $1500 on the newly purchased fruit-farm, and the Californians have subscribed money to pay off the mortgage. The Eastern friends of Mrs. Brown, without any solicitation from her or from any of the family, are raising a fund to secure to her in her old age a pension which will make her at least as free from pecuniary anxiety as the widow of a captain in the Union army who receives a pension from the government. Some handsome subscriptions have been made for this purpose, and there can be little doubt of the raising of such a pension fund. One of her sons writes on hearing of this proposition:—"My heart is full of gratitude to those noble, generous souls who have undertaken to raise a fund, the interest of which it is proposed to bestow in the form of a pension to my mother during the remainder of her life. This action touches me all the more deeply because unsolicited, so far as I know, by any of our family."

HOW OTHERS TALK ABOUT US.

Under the head of "Newport Drains" we find the following communication in the New York Evening Post. We publish it simply to let our own people see the current of public opinion in regard to the drainage of our city:—

The warnings of Colonel Waring and of "Champlin" in your late numbers are worth heeding, but are hardly strongly enough expressed. Owing to the new waterworks the process of saturation is going on rapidly. The stiff clay soil of Newport refuses to carry off the surplus water. The few sewers at present existing belong to no general system and are of different calibre. Some of them discharge into the harbor at the head of various wharfs where there is little or no current, and consequently spread a foul atmosphere. The other, a larger one at the foot of Narragansett avenue and the private drains belonging to the Cliff Cottage Association, to the Livingston houses and to the residences on the Cliff discharge into the east bay and have already made bathing on the famous beach a practice of doubtful benefit or pleasure, and walking along the Cliff when the wind is from southeast unpleasant. And yet the Common Council refuses to do anything. It is a pity that Newport is not governed by the summer people, who pay more than half the taxes and to whom it really belongs, and not by the shopkeepers in Thames street, who look upon all public measures through the slit that communicates to their till. Newport is wonderfully well situated for health, but the strongest constitution cannot neglect with impunity to take ordinary sanitary precaution. I. W.

NEWPORT, R. I., April 15, 1881.

THE PRINCE OF WAR CORRESPONDENTS.

DR. WILLIAM HOWARD RUSSELL ARRIVES IN NEW YORK.

Dr. William Howard Russell, better known perhaps as "Bull Run" Russell, arrived in New York on the Cunard steamer Gallia yesterday. He was correspondent of the London Times during the "late little unpleasantness" between the North and the South and owing to his having written the rout of the Federal army at the first battle of Bull Run, he became at that time the most unpopular person in the Northern states. Through the writing of those articles he received the title of "Bull Run Russell."

It is rather amazing that Booth's Theatre, which holds far more people than most of our churches do, should be crammed by persons who pay to hear Colonel Ingersoll talk, while many of our churches are empty. For Col. Ingersoll's discourses cannot truthfully be said to be either profound or entertaining to well-instructed and enlightened minds. What is new in them is not true, and what is true in them is not new; they consist of old and worn-out ideas, dressed up a little and palmed off upon the simple as original. But people throng to hear them—and pay for them. The proportion of simpletons to wise people is, perhaps, very large.—[Graphic.

The late Lord Beaconsfield left his physical counterpart in Sir John A. MacDonald, the Prime Minister of Canada. Between these two statesmen there existed a wonderful likeness in face and form; and their political careers were singularly alike, with the difference that Beaconsfield had the greater field of the Home government, while Sir John is the head of a Colonial administration. But Sir John has half the North American continent to manage and that is no small task.

Ex-Senator Yulee of Florida says that in 1861, after making his farewell in the Senate chamber, he met Senator Collamer on the steps of the capital, and, as they shook hands, Collamer said, in blank disbelief that war was possible, "Good-by Yulee: we shall meet again in the next national convention."

JOYFUL TIDINGS.—Says the Boston Journal, "Those two-story monominations called hats, which women have been accustomed to wear at places of entertainment, and the squinting around which men of imaginative minds have been accustomed to call "seeing a play," are out of fashion this spring.

FIRST TIME AT OMAHA.

A grave sweet wonder in the baby face,
And look of indistinct dignity and grace,
Such as a painter hand might love to trace.

A pair of trusting innocent blue eyes,
That higher than the stained-glass windows rise,
Into the fair and cloudless summer skies.

The people round her sing, "Above the sky
There's rest for little children when they die"—
To her—thus gazing up—that rest seems nigh.

The organ peals: she must not look around,
Although with wonderment her pulses bound—
The place on which she stands is holy ground

The sermon over, and the blessing said,
She bows—as "mother" does—her golden head;
And thinks of little sister who is dead.

She knows that now she dwells above the sky,
Where holy children enter when they die,
And prays God take her there too by and by.

Pet, may He keep you in the faith alway,
And bring you to that home for which you pray,
Where all shall have their child-hearts back one day!

SUNDRIES.

An issue between capital and labor—paying off Saturday night.

The fellow who was much struck by a young lady wanted to return a kiss for the blow.—[Lowell Citizen.

Never address your conversation to a person engaged in footing up a column of figures. There's nothing so deaf as an adder.

"There, Henrietta, don't be forever gazing into the mirror. It looks very bad." "I was thinking, mamma, that it looked very good; and besides, father says I should look on the bright side, including, I suppose, the bright side of a mirror."—[Boston Transcript.

The editor of a Toronto paper, in speaking of a meeting of a cemetery association, remarks that the number of interments increased 77 for the year, "a statement received by the surviving members of the company as satisfactory, which would likely have been the case had the increased interments been doubled."

A little girl once took a letter from her mother to an old lady friend. "Many thanks, my child," she said; "you may tell your mother that you are a good child and are a faithful little messenger." "Thank you, maam; and I shall tell her too that I didn't ask you for ten cents, because mamma told me not to."—[French paper.

There is a colony of Jews in one of the cities of China that claims a residence of two thousand years. This colony of the old race was made known to the Western World in the seventeenth century by the Jesuit missionaries, who contributed so largely to historic and geographical knowledge in those days. They were heard from several times after that, but were unvisited for a long time. Now the remarkable fact appears that after preserving for twenty centuries the laws and rites of the Hebrew religion, they are now presenting an instance unparalleled in the history of the Jews, of a people falling away from the faith, and rapidly becoming Pagans or Mohammedans. They have, within the last century, dropped all practice of rites and ceremonies; their synagogue is falling into decay, they have lost their knowledge of Hebrew, and have begun to inter-marry with Pagans. They still possess, however, very ancient rolls of the law in a strange form of alphabet, which neither they nor the ordinary Hebrew scholars can read. The manuscripts are valuable, and it is to be hoped may come into the possession of Western scholars.

Morning You.

The months of March, April and May are the three arches of a bridge which binds the season of ice to that of roses. Therefore Spring is a trying period for invalids. Indications of disease should now be heeded at once. If you are vexed with indigestion, disordered Liver or Kidneys, want of appetite, constipation of the Bowels or feverish skin, take Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy without an hour's delay. It is mild, quick and positive in its action. Keep it in the house when you are at home, and take it with you on journeys; you can have no better friend.

It adapts itself to the common ills of every day, and should be found in every family where this journal is read. What Favorite Remedy is recommended to do it will do. Ask your Druggist for it. But little money is wanted; only One Dollar a bottle.

"Favorite Remedy" is the friend of childhood and should be found in every nursery in the land. Keep it in your house for your children's sake as well as for your own. For women who suffer from any of the ills peculiar to the sex, Favorite Remedy proves a real blessing. Try it and you will be glad you saw this article. Make no mistake. The medicine is "Favorite Remedy," and the proprietor's name and address: Dr. David Kennedy, Rondout, N. Y.

Patients living at a distance, (except in surgical cases), by sending a statement of their case can be treated at home s14-4w

KIDNEY REGULATOR
AND PURIFIER.
Kidneyen is highly recommended and unsurpassed for Weak or Foul Kidneys, Dropsy, Bright's Disease, Loss of Energy, Nervous Debility, or any obstructions arising from Kidney or Bladder Diseases. Also for Yellow Fever, Blood and Kidney Poisoning, in infected malarial sections.
By the distillation of a Forest Leaf with Juniper Berries and Barley Malt we have discovered Kidneyen, which acts specifically on the Kidneys and Urinary organs, removing deposits in the Bladder and straining, smarting, heat or irritation in the water passages, giving them strength, vigor and restoring a healthy color and easy flow of urine. It can be taken at all times, in all climates without injury to the system. Unlike any other preparation for Kidney difficulties it has a very pleasant and agreeable taste and flavor. It contains positive diuretic properties and will not nauseate. Ladies especially will like it, and gentlemen will find Kidneyen the best Kidney Tonic ever used!
Notice.—Each bottle bears the signature of Lawrence & Martin, also a proprietary government stamp, which permits Kidneyen to be sold (without license) by Druggists, Grocers and other persons everywhere. Put up in quart size bottles for general and family use. If not found at your druggists or grocers, we will send a bottle prepaid to the nearest express office to you.
